2. The granting of approval is carried out on the basis of specific deadline agreements and upon presentation of a concept for the intended broadcast (Attachment 1). In the spaces and on the business premises of the Approving Party, categorically no changes may be carried out. In exceptional cases, they can be made by specific arrangement – if deemed reasonable by the Approving Party. After filming, the original condition is to be restored, if requested by the Approving Party.
3. A museum employee will be assigned to support the filming team. This party will give instructions on the local conditions of the filming location provided.
4. The choice of theme will be made in coordination with the responsible museum employee.
5. In the interest of safety preservation on the premises of the Approving Party, the instructions of this museum employee must be followed.

7. The Approved Party will be liable for all personal injury and material damage that occurs in connection with or as a result of the filming work, including preparation and processing by it, its staff or any other of its agents. The liability extends to the Approving Party as well as museum visitors and other uninvolved third parties. The Approved Party must indemnify the Approving Party against all claims of third parties (persons and companies appointed by the Approved Party).
8. For the use of the spaces and the premises for filming for the purposes of a publication, the Approving Party levies a fee of EUR plus VAT. This fee will be payable upon submission of the invoice.

For this purpose, the corresponding material will be provided in duplicate, unprompted and free of charge. The Approving Party may also use this, for example, for an image film about the museum, or make the film publicly accessible in the museum. The Approving party is not entitled to sell the material in an unauthorised manner.
12. The Approved party will use this permission in its own name and at its own expense. It also assures that it is entitled to effect the commitments of this contract on its part in a legally binding manner. German law applies as agreed.
13. The application for approval is part of this contract. There are no ancillary agreements.
